

We cordially Invite you for the Safety Seminar 2023 on

Transportation Safety: Getting Future Ready

Introduction to the Seminar theme:

As Indian industry is developing and maturing rapidly, we are required to operate at increasingly higher levels of complexity, efficiency, and potential risks. Adaptation of new technologies bring in new type of challenges in safety as well as operability. Moreover since the transportation costs represent almost 30% of the product, it is imperative for us to optimise as well as avoid catastrophic accidental costs. Gas Industries Association in its yearly flagship seminar has worked on this topic this year to present complete wide gamut of technologies and techniques developed by its member companies. Among the member companies we operate more than 3000 transport vehicles keenly observing our safety performance, adopting latest technology, and taking care of our driving partners. This seminar is an effort by GIA to bring out this experience and showcase the advancements so that the industry at large can benefit.

The specific aspects we would like to highlight in the seminar include the following:

- Face to face interactions with some of our best drivers who have wide experience. This will bring out the real picture and give us a perspective on the technology and operations.
- Advancements on the transportation trucks, trailers, tankers and cylinder pellets which help to improve the safety performance while enhancing the efficiencies.
- New roads and highways designs
- Drivers' wellness and training and habitation with a special session by an expert who has worked widely on all aspects of human wellness in the new conditions..

Seminar will consist of the presentation by GIA member companies in lucid but yet deeply analytical manner covering all aspects, followed by interactive sessions with the audience.

Who shall attend the seminar :

Transportation being a central theme of all businesses we invite all manufacturers, transporters, dealers and suppliers, OEM's. Our seminar is relevant not only to Industrial gas sector but it is also very relevant to other industrial segments like Oil and Gas, hazardous chemicals, and other bulk and cargo movers.

We also intend to invite senior officials from Road transportation departments, PESO, IPC, DPIIT and large healthcare institutions to deliberate the regulatory framework, harmonised specifications and policy making.

Our seminar also holds lots of value and interesting subjects for NGOs, Public think tanks and common citizens who would like to learn and be part of the supply chain.
